

UTAH TEACHERS TO HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

Will Hold Seventeenth Annual Convention December 27, 28, 29 and 30.

ATTENDANCE EXPECTED TO BE FROM 2500 TO 3000

Big Educators to Speak and Far-Reaching Legislation to Be Sought.

Teachers of the public schools of Utah will meet in their seventeenth annual convention in this city, December 27, 28, 29 and 30. From all indications, based on the interest being taken by those in charge, the convention will be the best ever held.

A new feature will be introduced at this meeting. Heretofore the conventions have been more in the way of teachers' institutes. This one will take on the convention idea, reducing the institute idea to a minimum, according to Mathoniah Thomas, president of the State Teachers' association.

"When I was honored last year by being made president of the teachers' association," said President Thomas, "I made up my mind to put new life into the work of the association. In other years the convention was organized into sections and the persons at the head of the different sections looked after lectures for their respective sections. There has been lack of organization in the convention. This year I should like to see an educational meeting instead of a teachers' picnic. I do not mean by this that no real good came from the meetings, but I mean to make the convention one for teachers, parents and school trustees. A closer alliance of the three forces is what I am after."

Give Body Legal Life.
At the last meeting a committee on reorganization was appointed and this committee will report a resolution giving the organization legal life. There will be some suggestions in the report of the committee that will give the teachers' association a more definite legal status. While the report will have some opposition from certain elements, I am sure it will be adopted. Substantial and meritorious changes in the constitution of the teachers' associations will not be forgotten.

"I am sure that the executive committee has had more meetings in the last year than in any other year since the association was organized. Early last spring I named committees to make arrangements for this convention. These committees have been at work and making reports, from time to time, to the executive committee. We believe the program arranged will be a revelation to many teachers of the state."

"E. E. Brown, United States school commissioner, will arrive in the city Wednesday morning. It is expected that a state association get the United States school commissioner and the teachers should feel that no effort has been neglected to make the convention a success."

In honor of the representative of the national association of teachers of Salt Lake will give a reception Wednesday night of convention week. Odeon hall has been selected as the place for the reception. The hall will be decorated and Governor William Spry and his staff and Colonel Scott and his staff will be in the receiving line. We intend it to be a reception that will be remembered.

Best Lecture Last Session.
Another feature of the convention will be the lecture by Dr. John Cook of the Illinois State Normal school, on the "Education of the Boy and the Girl." Heretofore the last session of the convention has been given over to business and less than one third of the teachers attended. This year the best lecture of the convention will be given Friday night, at the last session of the convention. If any of the teachers leave before that time they will miss the best number on the programme.

"This convention is for the public. There will be between 2500 and 3000 teachers here and I wish that every parent in the city and county would attend some of the sessions. It is as much their convention as it is the teachers' convention."

There will be nine sessions in the four days. They will be held in the tabernacle, assembly hall and Barratt hall. The programme will begin Tuesday afternoon, December 27. As far as the programme is completed it follows:

Tuesday afternoon—Address of welcome, responses, business.
Tuesday night—Address, Dr. John Tyler of Anderson college.

Wednesday morning—Sections will meet at places to be announced. In connection with this period there will be a display of the art and manual training school work of the Salt Lake schools.

Wednesday afternoon—Address, Dr. John Cook, Illinois Normal school.
Wednesday evening—Lecture by E. E. Brown, United States school commissioner.

Thursday—Lectures at different hours by E. E. Brown, United States school commissioner of education.

Friday morning—Dr. Tyler's last lecture.
Friday afternoon—Business, election of officers, reports of reorganization committee.

Important Reports.
At some time in the convention two important reports will be made. One, "Physical Basis of Education," will be given by D. H. Christensen, chairman of the committee that prepared the report. The other, "Industrial Education," will be made by Dr. J. A. Whitcomb, president of the Utah Agricultural college. According to the president of the association, these reports will be among the most important ever presented to a convention of teachers.

"The matters contained in these reports have been investigated carefully. Doubtless parts of the reports will be recommended to become laws and a special report made to the legislature in the way of requests for their enactment into laws," said President Thomas.

Music for the convention will be given by the Commercial club quartette. Skelton's string orchestra, Mrs. William A. Wetzel's chorus and by a chorus from the city schools. There are some details of the musical programme to be arranged. The executive committee will hold a meeting this noon to complete the programme.

DIES AT WEBSAY OF MRS. MARY E. CAFFEY

Mrs. Mary E. Caffey Passes Away Twenty-Two Years After, to the Minute.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Caffey, who died twenty years to the minute after her husband, Benjamin F. Caffey, were held at the residence of Mrs. Caffey's son, Benjamin F. Caffey, 1621 First avenue, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Caffey's body was laid at rest in Mount Olivet cemetery beside that of another son, Dr. William P. Caffey, who died at Castle Gate five years ago.

Mrs. Caffey, nee Webb, died at 5:15 o'clock the afternoon of December 19, 1888. Mrs. Caffey passed away at 5:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon, last week, twenty years to the hour after the husband's death.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. M. Padon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, a denomination with which Mrs. Caffey, for many years of her long life, was identified. "It was her great comfort that she was with her children. She died, as she had lived, a queenly woman and true Christian."

At her death Mrs. Caffey was in her seventy-fifth year. She was a native of Maine, having been born in DeLac, Me., in 1836.

B. F. Caffey said of his mother: "She sprang from one of the most prominent families in Maine. Her father, John Winn, was a large cotton planter; her brother, Dr. James J. Winn of Clayton, Ala., was chief surgeon on General Longstreet's staff."

Mrs. Caffey raised four children. B. F. Caffey of Salt Lake, Lieutenant L. W. Caffey of the Fifteenth United States Infantry, now on detached duty as military instructor at the Agricultural college at Logan, J. W. Caffey of High Point, N. C., and Mrs. Mary Caffey of Crystal River, Fla., whose husband is one of the foremost business men of that state. All the children were present at the funeral except Mrs. Banno.

The funeral was well attended and the rich casket was surrounded by flowers from a multitude of friends. Hymns were sung by a quartette and a solo by Mrs. Dr. Snyder.

The pallbearers were A. J. Davis, Charles Graham, George Silks, C. J. Field, F. W. Francis and Colonel C. R. Applegate.

CHURCH WORKERS HOLD REUNION AND BANQUET

Fifty members of the Riff Methodist Episcopal church and their friends gathered for a reunion and banquet at the church parlor Friday night. The rooms were attractively decorated.

At the long tables where the delicious meal was served, stories were related and a number talked entertainingly of their varied experiences in the work of the church.

Judge C. W. Morse was toastmaster, and toward the close of the feast he called upon several members of the congregation who responded to his bright introductions with happy remarks, as follows:

"The Sunday School," A. D. McGuire; "The Church," Miss Zillah Barker; "The Ladies Aid," Mrs. Coray; "The Deacons," the Rev. R. P. Nichols.

From the expressions of pleasure made from time to time it was apparent that the affair was one of the most enjoyable given by the church in a long time.

WALTER PERRY EVIDENTLY WANTS TO MEET GLADYS

Friday brought only one new development in the Whitney-Perry-Diell diamond robbery case. Walter Perry is still in the custody of the Colorado police, while the sheriff's office here is advised that Deputy Corlies left Memphis, Tenn. Friday night to bring the alleged thief back to Salt Lake.

The La Junta officers queried Sheriff Sharp Friday as to when the Whitney girl would pass through the Colorado line. He was advised that the girl was in charge will be in Denver Monday.

This action is taken to mean that Perry desires to meet his former companion before they reach Salt Lake. Local officers are ready to go after Perry as soon as the Colorado police are ready to turn him over to face the charge against him here, but neither the Pinkertons nor the Salt Lake police received further information Friday.

CALL ASYLUM NURSE FOR HER COMMITMENT

Former Attendant at Mental Asylum Said to Be Violently Insane.

APPLICATION IS MADE FOR HER COMMITMENT

Mistreatment Said to Be Responsible for Nephew Fowler's Condition.

Mrs. Joseph E. Fowler, a former attendant at the state mental hospital, is in a fair way to return to that institution as a patient. Violently insane, according to an information filed in the Third district court Friday, Mrs. Fowler will be examined by the sanity commission today.

Mrs. Fowler's story is a sad one. Her maiden name was Miss Nephin Broberg. While employed at the hospital she met Joseph E. Fowler, also an employee. Later they were married, and still later removed to Salt Lake. As the years went by a number of children came to them and finally Mrs. Fowler deserted his family, it is alleged, and went to Idaho. This was in 1908, and the blow was a severe one to Mrs. Fowler, who was left with a number of children, whom she was unable to support. It is understood that her mind became slightly unsettled at that time, but her condition was not sufficiently serious to warrant the officers in restraining her of her liberty.

Fowler was brought back from Idaho on a requisition and charged with neglecting his minor children. The information was found faulty, however, and quashed, but Fowler was rearrested and gave bonds for his appearance. The case is pending.

Recently Mrs. Fowler's condition has become worse and it is said that she was violent Thursday night; so much so, in fact, that it took several of her relatives to control her.

As a result, a member of her family swore to an information Friday and the woman will be examined today.

Mrs. Fowler was an attendant in the mental hospital from 1899 to 1906. Her father is David Broberg, who lives on North West Temple street.

ALMOST BLEEDS TO DEATH AS RESULT OF A CUT

James Smith, a butcher employed at the Palace meat market on South Main street, almost bled to death at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon as the result of a wound accidentally self-inflicted while he was cutting meat.

The outer artery of the left wrist was severed, and when the man was rushed to the office of Dr. E. F. Root, in the Utah Savings and Trust company building, his condition was serious.

Doctors Tinsdale, J. O. Evans and Root temporarily dressed the wound, then hurried Smith to the Holy Cross hospital, where transfusion was used to overcome the loss of blood.

The wounded man rallied within a few hours and was taken to his home on Second South street.

GENERAL LAND OFFICE APPROVES RIGHT OF WAY

Notice was received at the local land office Friday of the approval of the right of way of the proposed railroad line from the Colorado line to the main line of the Denver & Rio Grande, up Gordon creek, a distance of ten miles, to the coal fields recently located by a number of Utah men. The approval was made by the general land office, Washington, D. C., and the surveyors of the right of way were checked.

The line will start at Helper and run southwest along Gordon creek and thence north to some new coal fields. Along the main line of this extension will be a spur, branching off to other coal lands in the district.

The line is being financed by holders of coal lands in the district.

SAYS BURGLARS LOOTED HIS BANKRUPT STORE

J. F. Morrison, who recently conducted a small general store at 717 North Second West street, reported to the city detectives Friday night that his store had been burglarized some time during the morning of December 14 and 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Morrison said that he recently had gone into bankruptcy and the store had been closed, so he was unable to fix the hour of the burglary. He gave the officers a list of small groceries and notions to the value of about $100, which, he alleges, were stolen.

ALLEGED SHOPLIFTERS PLACED UNDER ARREST

Hyman Dixon, aged 40 years, and Nannie Peterson, aged 20, were arrested early Friday morning and taken to the city jail to await hearing on a charge of shoplifting or grand larceny. The two women were detained by Pinkerton detectives in the Keith-O'Brien department store, South Main street, and when taken to the city jail and searched, had in their possession goods to the value of about $100, alleged to have been stolen from the store.

Says Wife Assaulted Him.
Andrew Gibson, a Short Line passenger conductor, has made an answer to the separate indictment action which May Gibson recently filed against him in the Third district court. Gibson says that his wife is guilty of extreme cruelty.

On June 12, it is alleged, she assaulted him at South Temple and First West streets, while she was intoxicated and took off his collar and belt. Another time, he says, his wife got drunk and tried to shoot him with a revolver. Later, he says, she became intoxicated at a rooming house and was taken to the city jail. As a result, Gibson charges his wife with repeated acts of infidelity.
